

IF FRED FLINTSTONE COULD SEE IT NOW — The Ridgemount Quarry, about a mile from the Campbell Quarry, has a slightly different operation. Here the limestone deposit is 50 feet deep and the company is occupied only in the production of crushed limestone. A company official estimates the 87-acre quarry should last for the next 100 years at the present rate of removal. About 15 people are employed at this location.

(Review photos by Roels)