TO ALFRED MERRYWEATHER
 I cannot say, I will not say
 My brother is dead; he's just away,
 With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
 He has wandered into an unknown
 land.
 And left us dreaming how very fair
 It needs must be; it's on the square,
 And you, Oh you, who most yearn
 For the old-time step and the glad return,
 Think of him still, here or there;
 He was my brother, on the square;
 Think of him still as the same, I say.
 He is not dead — he is just away.
